

EVIDENCE OF HIS GUILT

Proof Bomb Was Made in Hogan's Room.

FOUR MORE ARRESTED

Suspected More Than One Person Was Connected in the Crime.

FUNERAL HELD YESTERDAY

Large Crowd is Present at the Funeral Services Which Are Held in Christian Church at Caldwell—Rev. W. E. Borah Delivers Eloquent Eulogy.

BOISE, Jan. 2.—Under a Caldwell date, the Statesman's correspondent sends the following: "Captain Swain has just made the following sensational statement to the representative of the Statesman: "You may announce that I have conclusive proof by evidence that the bomb used to assassinate Governor Steunenberg was manufactured in room 19 of the Saratoga Hotel (the room occupied by Hogan), and details of the plan formulated there.

"It was further stated by the captain that the evidence accumulated against Hogan was overwhelming. He did not feel justified in making too much of it public, but was willing to state that one feature was the finding of Hogan's shoes that he wore on the night of the murder. He did not say where the shoes were found, but stated they were wet when discovered.

The shoes and nails in the soles were found to fit perfectly into the tracks which all along were believed made by the assassin while escaping from the scene.

"Captain Swain gave your correspondent to understand that the evidence at hand justifies several additional arrests. In a few hours the matter will be positively fixed on some one. Hogan is guilty of manufacturing the bomb at least. Vessels in his name, it develops, show sediment of water paris, this being one evidence of the kind of work he was doing there."

Hogan was brought into court at Caldwell today and was formally committed to the care of the sheriff. He said he thought he could get counsel in two days, and he prepared for his preliminary hearing. Two other suspects were in jail there, and two more will arrive from Council tomorrow. Those in Caldwell are, Larry Heron and an Englishman who gives no name. Those at Council are, F. Campbell and Harold Warren. The latter two were at Nampa Friday when Hogan was there. Hogan registered then at a local hotel, using the name of William Warren for the latter. He had some business cards reading "Thomas Hogan, Silverton,

(Colo., agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Co."

The funeral of ex-Governor Steunenberg was held today at Caldwell, with a large attendance. A special train carried some 200 persons from Boise. Among these were a Governor, two ex-Governors, all the other State officials, justices of the supreme court, a judge of the Federal court, an ex-member of Congress and a large number of prominent persons. The services were held in the Christian church, being conducted by Rev. J. W. Boone, who was assisted by Elder Snyder, of Walla Walla, of the Seventh Day Adventist Church of which Mrs. Steunenberg is a member. The church was beautifully decorated, there being many floral offerings. W. E. Borah delivered a brief oration at the request of the family. Borah paid a touching tribute to his dead friend and continuing took occasion to speak of the public services of the dead and the obligation under which they placed the state. "Idaho never will allow," he said, "this humiliation to be ameliorated, the demands of the law must be satisfied. "A person," Borah said, "who does not become an untiring searcher for the author of this crime, carries already in his heart the germs of treason. In months to come, Idaho will give her sister States proof that his example was not in vain; justice will bring to bar the cowardly assassin, and Idaho in part will pay the dead her immeasurable debt of gratitude."

DRINKS AND DIES

Man Breaks New Year's Resolution and Suicides.

IN PRESENCE OF HIS WIFE

Clerk in Hotel Oregon Promises His Wife He Will Cease Drinking—Breaks Promise, and Overcome with Remorse Chews His Brains Out.

PORTLAND, Jan. 2.—Failure to keep his New Year resolution to refrain from drinking was one of the motives which culminated in the suicide of Robert E. Brinstad, chief clerk of the Hotel Oregon, at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

In the presence of his wife, the deed was committed in room 329 of the hotel, occupied by the young couple, a few minutes after Brinstad had received the note from his wife.

Mrs. Brinstad had received a promise from her husband yesterday that he would abstain from liquor during 1906, but last evening he met a crowd of football players from Seattle and forgot his pledge.

When Brinstad did not appear at a late hour, the wife wrote the note and handed it to David Evans, the elevator boy, with instructions to give the message to her husband. Shortly after 2 o'clock Brinstad arrived and Evans presented the note. The clerk read the lines in silence and then slowly tore the paper to fragments.

Without a word, Brinstad went directly to the room occupied by himself and wife and killed himself. Mrs. Brinstad heard him in the room before the shot was fired and saw him removing his collar and cravat at her stood in his shirt-sleeves before the mirror. According to Mrs. Brinstad, no conversation passed between them, but as she looked she saw him place the muzzle of a revolver to his right temple and pull the trigger.

Screaming "murder!" the frightened and horrified wife sprang out of bed as her husband's brains splattered on the bureau, walls, pictures and curtains. As the body pitched forward it struck a rocking chair with such impact that one of the rockers was broken.

After investigating the case, Deputy Coroner Finley decided that no inquest was necessary, as the deed was committed during a temporary fit of insanity. The remains were removed to the morgue, where they will be held pending the funeral arrangements. Mrs. Brinstad has been taken to the home of Mrs. E. L. Peterson, 331 North Thirtieth street.

Representatives of the Typographical Union say the eight-hour principle is already won in New York and the percentage of men compelled to strike is very small.

INSURGENTS ARE ACTIVE IN BALTIC REGION

GOVERNMENT ADOPTING ENERGETIC MEASURES

Warsaw Factory Employes Now All On Strike-- Bombs and Revolvers Discovered Belonging to Jewish Anarchists.

TRAFFIC ON VISTULA AND VIENNA RAILROADS IS BLOCKED

Slovo, a Russian Paper in St. Petersburg, Attacks Premier Witt, Impugning His Motives, and Saying He Is Not Believed to be Making the Fight Against Anarchy in the Interest of Freedom, As All His Life He Has Been the Prince of Bureaucrats.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 2.—The situation in the Baltic provinces is still critical. The military at Reval, Mitau and Riga are adopting energetic measures. The insurgents made several attempts to derail the train between Libau and Hazmforth. The arrests of the extremists in St. Petersburg continue.

In Warsaw the employes of all the factories are now on strike. Bombs and revolvers were discovered yesterday which belonged to a club of Jewish anarchists who are terrorizing the Jewish merchants. Traffic on the Vistula railroad is partially interrupted. Socialists have destroyed two bridges and are firing on the engineers. A bridge is also destroyed on the Vienna railroad. At Lodz some factories attempted to resume work but the workmen were threatened with revolvers by the strikers.

The Slovo, which recently turned against Witt delivers a broadside not only impugning the motives of the premier, but openly attacking the records of members of the cabinet. It says Russian society refuses to believe Witt is making the fight against anarchy in the interest of freedom for all his life he has been the prince of bureaucrats. It says Witt is good deal of a broker, and at heart is a political gambler and lacks the ring of sincerity. It asserts one minister was caught in a shady grain transaction, another supplying railroad ties, another engaged in questionable transactions of commercial paper and another in selling national secrets.

The revolutionists, it says, on the other hand deserve condemnation, but implies they are somewhat excusable when it is seen that their methods of robbery, violence and falsehood are only the usual methods of the bureaucracy. It concludes, "We do not want geniuses, but clean men, such as the Donnas only would be able to give."

A dispatch from Moscow says it is impossible to ascertain the total losses in the ten days' revolt, as many dead and wounded were not reported at the hospitals, and some bodies were burned. A personal tour of the hospitals show 548 killed, and 1065 wounded. Of the troops nine were killed, and 51 wounded. Of the police ten were killed and 15 wounded. The final figures of the casualties will approach 2500.

Governor-General Douhassoff said to the Associated Press today that he considers a repetition of the revolt in Moscow to be impossible. The "Reds" alienated the sympathy of a large portion of Liberals, who were inclined to look with complacency on the idea of an armed uprising. Events of the last few days have filled them with horror and driven the Liberals and even some radicals to the side of the government. Most of the ringleaders of the revolt are either killed or arrested, and practically all the trms which accumulated for months have been captured.

According to a despatch from railroad traffic in all directions were resumed today. Reports are coming in of a counter revolution in the outlying districts which is growing rapidly, and peasants are being summoned to protect the throne.

Word from Ekaterinoslav state that the occupation of the Lozovaia-Sinelokovo railroad by the military has made a deep impression on the revolutionaries. Troops have been sent to other stations now in the hands of the insurgents.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—A dispatch to the news agency from Odessa says men from every branch of trade have returned to work and the newspapers have reappeared. The triumph of the authorities at Moscow has discouraged the revolutionaries. The only disquieting feature is the persistence of the threat to massacre the Jews.

At Riga, where a detachment of dragoons were grooming their horses this morning, they were attacked by 300 workmen armed with revolvers. Eleven dragoons were killed and fourteen wounded. The soldiers rallied and killed eight. Troops were summoned and the rebels are surrounded.

Brinstad was 28 years old, and was born in La Crosse, Wis. Deceased leaves, besides the widow and child, a brother in Yakima, Wash., and his mother and three sisters in La Crosse, Wis. The relatives were informed by wire of the suicide, and no arrangements regarding the funeral will be made until they are heard from.

ASPXYIATED BY GAS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—Mrs. William Griffith and son Alfred were asphyxiated by illuminating gas today in their rooms at 950 Guerrero street. Mrs. Griffith is dead. The son is still alive. It is not determined whether the tragedy was the result of an accident, design or crime.

MURDERER DIES.

After Attempting Triple Murder He Fatally Wounds Himself.

CALEDONIA, Minn., Jan. 2.—Matt Styer, the murderer of Miss Pearl Wheaton, died tonight of a gunshot wound, self inflicted, after his attempt at the triple murder. His other victims, Mrs. Wheaton and Miss Ruth Wheaton, are in a critical condition, but the physicians hold out hopes for their recovery.

HAVING SNOWSTORM.

Colorado Has First Snowstorm of the Season.

DENVER, Jan. 2.—A snowstorm, the first in many places this season, began in Southern and Western Colorado today. Several inches of snow have fallen. The storm is traveling northward and indications are that Denver will have a heavy fall. Stock is suffering intensely.

GETS NOTHING.

SALEM, Jan. 2.—Attorney-General Crawford has decided the state commission is not entitled to share in the profits of the Lewis and Clark Corporation arising from gate receipts, concessions, etc.

HAS BROKEN SHAFT

Steamer Puebla in Distress off Oregon Coast.

FEARS FELT FOR SAFETY

Steamer Nelson Arrives in San Francisco and Reports Trying to Tow Puebla, but Storm Prevents—Chehalis Now Towing Disabled Ship.

SEATTLE, Jan. 2.—It is reported that the disabled steamer City of Puebla was taken in tow by the steam schooner Chehalis Sunday, and is now en route to San Francisco. The steamer Whittier passed the two vessels off Cape Flattery Sunday, and on reaching Vancouver today reported the accident to the Puebla.

While passing Cape Flattery the officers of the Whittier signaled that tugs were wanted to assist the Puebla and they were read to mean that there was trouble aboard the Chehalis. The Whittier reports that the Chehalis was making slow headway.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—Somewhere off the Oregon or Washington coast the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's steamer City of Puebla is rolling in the heavy seas with a broken shaft. Saturday afternoon she was sighted by the steamer schooner Charles Nelson, which arrived this morning from Seattle and Tacoma, and signals of distress fluttered from her halyards. The Nelson spell out the words "Broken shaft," and knew that her sea companion was in dire trouble, but the heavy seas and howling gale rendered it impossible to go to the assistance of the disabled vessel, for the little Nelson had all she could do to take care of herself.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—In the will, read today, of the late Charles T. Yerkes he makes many public bequests, including $100,000 in trust, the income to be paid to the University of Chicago for the maintenance of Yerkes Observatory at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Provision was made for the disposal of his New York home, after the death of his wife, to a corporation organized for the maintenance of his art gallery, the sum of $750,000 being given to this project on his wife's death. Yerkes also provides for a hospital to be erected in New York. His widow, son and others are provided for. The family expressed entire satisfaction with the provisions.

SPEAKERSHIP SETTLED

Wadsworth Jr. Nominated By Republicans.

AFTER BITTER FIGHT

Palmer, Minority Leader of Assembly Will Be Wadsworth's Opponent.

ROOSEVELT FOR WADSWORTH

Republican Candidate for Speaker Had Support of President—Wainwright Openly Opposed Roosevelt Action as Using Unproper Influence in Affair.

ALBANY, Jan. 2.—James W. Wadsworth Jr., son of Congressman Wadsworth and son-in-law of the late John Hay, was nominated by the Republicans tonight as speaker of the assembly and will be elected to that office tomorrow. His Democratic opponent will be Geo. M. Palmer, who for many years has been minority leader on the assembly floor.

Wadsworth received 75 out of 105 votes in the caucus. Edwin A. Merritt, 14, and J. M. Wainwright, 15. The vote was taken by open roll call, and no attempt to secure a secret ballot as expected was made. The result brings to a close one of the most remarkable speakership campaigns in recent years, characterized by marked factional bitterness and some unusual features. Wadsworth was not among the candidates originally in the field, but was proposed by Governor Higgins and regarded as having the support of President Roosevelt. Merritt had the backing of ex-Governor Odell. Wainwright stood openly in opposition to what he charged improper influence of the executive in a purely legislative matter.

ABOLISH REBATING.

Three Big Insurance Companies Agree to do Away with Practice.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—An agreement to abolish rebating on premiums was entered into by the New York Life, Equitable and Mutual Life. The announcement was made today that Grover Cleveland was appointed referee to decide all such matters and his salary would be $12,000 a year to be paid jointly by the three companies.

Any agent who gives a rebate will be dismissed from service and not be re-employed by any company. It is understood the agreement is the result of the suggestion of President of the Equitable.

GENERAL DIES.

PORTLAND, Maine, Jan. 2.—General Francis Fessenden died today aged 66 years.

TWELVE HUNDRED PRINTERS STRIKE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Twelve hundred union printers, the employes of forty-four book and job printing concerns, in New York City, went on a strike today and began the struggle for an eight-hour day. The members of the local Typothetae against whom the strike is declared, asserted tonight
